5. Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design – Mike Contreras	Stephen Ortiz began by announcing if there is no passion for this project the Sidewalk Committee needs to move on and if there is an interest it needs to be taken to the Board. Michael provided the trifold and handouts – six information packets on separate state crime preventions. Starting point Durham packet, pages 13 – 15 and New Zealand, appendix 3: CPTED Checklist. Stephen stated the city has a plan and the discussion is pushed to the side when discussed with the city. Sidewalk is wasting time. Michael stated the city has a paid officer and is certified as a CRT individual, because the officer took the same class on the same day as him, without using an outside vendor. Encourage the city to spend money with the best practices. Stephen stated minimum requirements are not enough. Michael stated concentrate on low cost and no cost options. The best time is the design phase before approved site plans. Stephen stated table vote, read materials provided, pick out items at low cost and no cost, and come together and vote for Board Discussion.	5. Stephen Monroy stated the matter has been resolved. The report was done at that moment. Stephen Monroy believes the business owner does not want the police department on-site because every time police arrives on location their rating points go down and the owner has security. WUA had an annual meeting and Aleco was invited to attend. Stephen Monroy stated an officer has been assigned to uptown as of a couple of weeks ago, named Officer Blake, on Friday and Saturdays.	8. Subject: Coastal Landscape Update

We are continuing on with our sidewalk maintenance schedule. We are working on cleaning the trash receptacles from all the stick goo and trash. There has been a little bit of graffiti on them, but it comes off easily. They are in desperate need of painting, FYI. There was no real large piles of trash left in the alley way last week, just the usual odds and ends. Homeless has not been an issue as of late. We noticed an outside vendor cleaning the graffiti, they are working out good. Pretty quiet week in Uptown last week, the way we like it. Have a good week, Tyson
